Meditation seems to be fast gaining popularity. It seems that every health guru, magazine, and Instagram influencer is telling us to get with the programme and make meditation a part of our daily routine.

So what's all the fuss about?

Meditation is being hailed as one of the best ways to reduce stress, improve energy levels, increase focus, control pain, improve sleep and promote good mental health.

But is meditation really the magic it is marketed as?

In short, yes. There is scientific evidence that meditation can do all these things. In a review of 12 studies, they found that multiple meditation styles increased attention, memory, and mental quickness in older volunteers.

Another study of 996 volunteers found that when they meditated by concentrating on a "silent mantra" they reduced blood pressure by an average of five points. Whether you are suffering from stress and anxiety or poor energy and difficulty sleeping, meditation is a safe,

IT'S NOT ALL ABOUT BEING STILL & QUIET

One common misconception about meditation is that it is all about sitting still and quiet and emptying the mind. In fact, there are many different types of meditation - some involved sitting still and quiet, others incorporate movements such as tai chi or some forms of yoga. So, don't be put off if you find one style of meditation is not for you – there are plenty of others to try.

SO HOW CAN YOU GET IN ON THE ACTION?

Although meditation is easy to do once you know how, most beginners find it is best to start with a guided meditation. There is a whole range of resources available from apps such as Headspace, Brain Tap and Insight Timer, to YouTube videos, online courses and MP3 downloads too. Choose a simple, and effective way to improve your mental and physical health.

resource that is easy for you to use and has a style that resonates with you.

Are you or someone you know curious about how Chiropractic care can help improve their health? Why not pop us a call and book in for a free 15 minute consultation.

Meet Zosia, one of our younger patients, who struggled to move her arms and legs due to extreme tension and inability to relax. This affected her ability to talk or feed herself and she required 24-hour care. After the first few sessions with us Zosia said the word Mum for the first time. A few months into her care she is able to STAND!! If you are a current patient and would like to donate towards her care please let us know by emailing us on: info@chirofamilypractice.co.uk. For every donation used towards her care we continue to match ourselves. Big thanks for those who have already donated towards her care so far.

5 SIMPLE WAYS TO REDUCE HEADACHES & MIGRAINES

1: Drink Plenty of Water

Dehydration is one of the leading causes of headaches and can be a contributing factor in migraines too. It's thought that even just a 2% reduction of water in the brain can cause headaches! Many people are chronically dehydrated and don't even realise. If you are headache or migraine sufferer (or even if you are not!) try to drink between 1.5-2 litres of water each day.

2: Avoid Known Triggers

Many migraine sufferers have triggers that can bring on a migraine attack. The most common include chocolate, wine, cheese, sulphites and coffee. If you're a migraine sufferer keep a food diary. Log everything you eat and drink and look out for any patterns, so you can avoid the foods that could be triggering your migraines.

3: Take A Magnesium Supplement

Studies have shown that magnesium supplements can help reduce the frequency and severity of headaches and migraines. Magnesium is an essential nutrient, but thanks to over farming and the poor-quality, western diet it's thought that around 75% of people don't meet their daily requirement through food alone. Supplements have been shown to reduce the frequency of migraine attacks by up to 41%.

4: Get Adjusted

Chiropractic isn't just for bad backs. When your spine is out of alignment it can interfere with the nerves running from your spinal cord out to the rest of your body. Getting regularly adjusted can help your central nervous system to function properly and could help reduce or alleviate headaches and migraines.

5: Reduce Your Stress Levels

Stress is a huge contributor to headaches and migraines so it's essential that you keep your stress levels in check. For most people, daily life is stressful - whether that's from working, juggling a family or other stressful situation. So, if you're adding to your stress every day, it makes sense to work on reducing it each day too. Meditation is a great way to relieve stress and with the many meditation apps available it can be quick and easy too.

What to do when the headaches or migraine strikes?

These 5 tips are great ways to prevent headaches and migraines, but what can you do when disaster strikes? What can you do to ease the pain and encourage a faster recovery?

Use Hot & Cold Compresses

Heat and ice can help ease the pain of a headache or migraine attack. Try putting a hot water bottle

Rest & Dim The Lights

Brightlights can aggravate headache or migraine pain. If you can, try laying down in a darkened room and rest until the pain passes. If you can't rest, then turn off any brightlights in the room you're in and avoid looking at screens if possible.

Drink Some Water

on your feet and an ice pack on your head or neck.

Sometimes all it takes to relieve a headache is a glass of water! If you think you could be dehydrated try drinking a large glass of water.
